

RESEARCH AND TRAINING WORKSHOPS GRANT PROGRAM

Overview & Application Guidelines

Last Updated January 25, 2024

BACKGROUND AND PURPOSE

AES welcomes applications for funding to support scientific conferences and workshops focused on epilepsy research and training. Proposed conferences or workshops should address important and timely topics in epilepsy research of interest to AES members. AES support may be used for speakers' transportation and lodging, participation by junior investigators and trainees, publication of proceedings, and other direct costs, but AES funds may not be used for indirect costs. Applications for workshops held outside the U.S. should propose to use AES funds to support participants from the U.S. to the extent appropriate and feasible.

Applications for workshop funding are reviewed by the AES Research and Training Council, and the number and amount of awards made each year are contingent on available funds.

Preference will be given to workshops that:

- have not previously or recently received an AES Research and Training Workshop grant.
- prioritize bringing a research community together to share recent findings, develop a grant proposal, develop a clinical guideline, or similar.
- include AES members as participants or attendees.
- that describe plans to support and encourage the participation of trainees and junior investigators.
- that allow open attendance rather than participation by invitation only. If open attendance is not feasible for the workshop being proposed, please include a brief explanation of how attendees will be selected.
- broadly disseminate workshop proceedings and other materials.

Commitment to DEI: The AES Research and Training Council will prioritize proposals with a clear commitment to DEI. This may include: - a diverse panel of speakers (for example, balance in gender, race, etc.) – plans to ensure support for trainees/junior investigators will support a diverse group of trainees/junior investigators – workshops that address health disparities - or other metrics as appropriate for the workshop being proposed.

OTHER POLICIES

Awardees are required to submit a final report and a financial report at the end of their award term.
