SCHEDULE AT A GLANCE

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 3

REGISTRATION
7:00 AM - 5:00 PM

EXHIBIT HALL
10:00 AM - 4:00 PM

Find the current list of exhibitors and the 2017 Exhibit Hall floor plan on the AES website.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHT

Innovation Pavilions

Located inside the Exhibit Hall, five Innovation Pavilions offer unique experiences for clinicians and researchers to learn more about state-of-the-art epilepsy products, technology, and patient programs. Stop by on Saturday, Sunday, and Monday to learn more!
Scientific Exhibits

Scientific Exhibits differ from traditional poster presentations in that a broad range of material can be presented as a collection of topics, such as results of various clinical trials or a thematic presentation of one aspect of drug development.

Welcoming Environment
AES welcomes attendees with special needs and fully complies with the legal requirements of the Americans with Disability Act. Please indicate when registering if you need accommodations to participate in the meeting. Please make your request by Thursday, November 9.

The American Epilepsy Society is committed to supporting educational and scientific dialogue, and to fostering a welcoming community in which all participants can contribute fully. Reflecting these values, AES will not tolerate harassment in any form. To learn more, visit meeting.aesnet.org/meeting-policies.

Concurrent Events
Meeting Space Requests for concurrent events open by Thursday, August 31.

All industry and other meetings and events including alumni reunions, receptions, board meetings, and committee meetings must be approved and confirmed by AES in advance. Limited meeting space will be available at the Marriott Marquis Washington, D.C. Detailed guidelines including fees and allowable times will be available on the AES website.

Satellite CME Symposia
AES policy allows CME-accredited satellite symposia. AES does not accredit these symposia. AES requires that a third-party accredited symposium meets the learning needs of AES members and DOES NOT duplicate the educational content of the 2017 AES Annual Meeting. Acceptable educational formats for a CME satellite symposium include presentations by speakers, panel discussions, workshops, and video presentations. For application information, visit meeting.aesnet.org/satellite-cme-symposium-guidelines.
REGISTRATION INFORMATION

From best practices to breakthrough thinking, the AES Annual Meeting offers the most extensive education on everything epilepsy. As the largest gathering on epilepsy in the world, the AES Annual Meeting is the event for epilepsy professionals in academia, clinical practice, industry, and advocacy.

This is where you belong. Join us in Washington, D.C. for an opportunity to learn and network with the brightest minds in epilepsy. Find out more at meeting.aesnet.org/registration-information.

About AES Meeting Hotel Reservations
- If you register for the meeting by Tuesday, October 31, AND confirm your hotel at the same time you will save* an additional $50 on your registration fee!
- Experient and AES International Group Housing are the Official Housing Providers for the AES Annual Meeting. AES has worked diligently with the hotels in Washington, D.C. to establish room blocks for attendees and exhibitors. Improper solicitation of hotel reservations from any company or housing provider other than Experient or AES International Group Housing is not approved by AES. Reservations made by unaffiliated organizations may appear to be for lower rates, however they may be illegitimate, have unreasonable cancellation or change penalties, or be completely non-refundable. Please be aware of, and report any unauthorized solicitation to AES.
- AES is only able to assist guests with reservations confirmed through Experient, the official AES housing provider.
- Reservations for meeting-related housing will not be accepted directly by participating hotels or AES staff.

Important Dates
You are encouraged to confirm your hotel reservations early, as rooms may sell out prior to these dates.

- Monday, October 3 – International group reservations (10 or more rooms) close.
- Tuesday, October 10 – Exhibitor group reservations (10 or more rooms) close.
- Tuesday, November 7 – Individual hotel reservations close.
- Monday, November 20 – A one night, non-refundable deposit (room & tax) will be charged to your credit card after this date.

*See registration and hotel terms and policies for details.

Getting to Washington, D.C.

- Taxi: Cabs are easily accessible for all major airports, Union Station, hotels, and restaurants.
Letter of Invitation
For security purposes, letters of invitation are only available for individuals registered for the Annual Meeting. Please check the appropriate box online when completing your registration. A letter will be sent to your email after your registration is completed. Questions: Please email aes@experient-inc.com.

Consulates and Embassies: Please check with your local U.S. consulate or embassy to find out the earliest that you may apply for a visa at www.usembassy.gov. You are encouraged to apply for a visa as early as possible.

Visa Application information: Applicants should first consult the U.S. Department of State's visa appointment and processing wait times website. Important timelines and information regarding travel to the United States is available on the U.S. Government websites:
- www.cbp.gov/travel/international-visitors/esta
- travel.state.gov/content/visas/en.html
If you are experiencing significant visa delays, you are encouraged to fill out the visa survey. This will bring your case to the attention of the U.S. Department of State.

International Group Housing
For international attendees, please visit our partner website for international group housing.

The benefits of booking with our international group housing partner are:
- International plan includes room, breakfast, porterage, taxes, gratuities, and help desk*
- The lowest official hotel rates offering early booking and no-penalty name changes
- Lowest available registration fee when booking through official housing
- Preferred hotels guaranteed once booked
- Secure payment processing and online room block management
- Multilingual meetings and conventions manager dedicated to your group from online to onsite
- Four international offices offering live chat and technical support in your time zone
- Assistance facilitating visa processing, CME credit transfers, and the dissemination of official authority letters

Beware of Housing Poachers: Experient and ABTS International Group Housing are the only AES-approved hotel providers for this meeting. Visit the AES website for details.

Additional Information

Recording or Photos of Content and Material
AES strictly prohibits photography, videotaping, and audio recordings (flash, digital, or otherwise) in all educational and poster sessions, unless by the official AES photographer. Violations of this policy will result in removal from the session and possible revocation of meeting registration.

Material presented at the AES Annual Meeting may not be reproduced in any format without the express written consent of AES or the otherwise applicable rights holder. Attendees acknowledge and agree that commercial or promotional distribution, publishing or exploitation of speaker sessions, content, or materials from the Annual Meeting is strictly prohibited.

Photography Release
AES uses photographs of meeting events in its promotional materials. Unless the permission is revoked in writing to AES, by their attendance, all meeting visitors agree to use of their likeness in such materials.

Security
A formal security plan is developed in consultation with the Convention Center and hotels to provide a secure meeting environment. Additional security information will be available in the Program Book provided on-site in the registration area.

“As a result of attending the AES Annual Meeting, I will be able to give patients more background into the development of new medications and possibly more hope with regard to treatment of epilepsy.”
EDUCATION PROGRAM OVERVIEW

About the Annual Meeting Sessions
The AES Annual Meeting offers high-quality educational programming across diverse work settings, professional roles, and experience levels. Whether you are just starting with the specialty, have a limited background in epilepsy, or are highly fluent with complex topics, you will find sessions and content relevant to your needs. For the most recent program information, visit meeting.aesnet.org/schedule.

2017 Schedule Changes
Please review the 2017 program schedule before confirming your hotel. Look for the symbol throughout this guide.

Symposia — Provide the major educational activities at the Annual Meeting. Topics range from clinically oriented presentations reviewing common issues in epilepsy to more complex topics combining basic sciences and clinical neurology. While target audiences differ, all symposia include discussion of clinically relevant information.

Special Interest Groups (SIG) — Offer information and networking for attendees with similar interests, in sessions organized by AES members. Although the sizes of SIG sessions vary, all lend themselves to active participation and dialogue.

Special Lectures — Recognize the accomplishments of distinguished leaders in clinical epilepsy and research. The Judith Hoyer Lecture in Epilepsy is delivered by an AES President Emeritus. The Lennox and Lombroso Lecture is given by an invited member who has greatly advanced the collective understanding of epilepsy.

Annual Course — Encourages in-depth exploration of important topics related to epilepsy, focused on clinical care, including review of the science underlying the topics, reviews of clinical research, and discussion of the associated clinical implications. The Annual Course includes a mixture of educational lectures, clinical vignettes, and panel discussions.

Investigators Workshops — Highlight exciting developments in basic, translational, and clinical epilepsy research in a format promoting interactive discussion. Speakers include established and junior epilepsy investigators, as well as researchers from other fields.

Skills Workshops — Deliver hands-on and interactive learning opportunities in focused clinical areas or basic science research skills. Attendance at each workshop is limited to a small number of participants to allow optimal interaction. Advanced registration and an additional fee are required.

This activity is provided by the American Epilepsy Society.

Accreditation
The American Epilepsy Society is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

AMA Credit Designation Statement
The American Epilepsy Society designates this live activity for a maximum of 29.00 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

International Credits: The American Medical Association has determined that non-U.S. licensed physicians who participate in this CME activity are eligible for AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™.

Physician Assistants: AAPA accepts certificates of participation for educational activities certified for AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™ from organizations accredited by ACCME or a recognized state medical society. Physician assistants may receive a maximum of 29.00 hours of Category 1 credit for completing this program.

Continuing Education for Nurses and Pharmacists
CE credit provided by AKH Inc., Advancing Knowledge in Healthcare, Inc.

This activity is eligible for ANCC and ACPE credit. See final CE activity announcement for specific details. Full accreditation information is available at meeting.aesnet.org/continuing-education-credit.

Credit Claim
Refer to the website for details and instructions about CME and CE credit claiming.

The American Epilepsy Society designates each activity for the number of AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™ listed here. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Target Audience
Neurologists, epileptologists, pediatric neurologists, nurses, psychologists, neuropsychologists, nurse practitioners, physician assistants, pharmacists,

Content Categories
The AES Annual Meeting offers high-quality educational content across diverse work settings, professional roles, and experience levels:

Basic: Those new to epilepsy treatment or whose background in the specialty is limited, e.g., students, residents, general physicians, general neurologists, and neurosurgeons, other professionals in epilepsy care, administrators.

Intermediate: Epilepsy fellows, epileptologists, epilepsy neurosurgeons, and other providers with experience in epilepsy care (e.g., advanced practice nurses, nurses, physician assistants), neuropsychologists, psychiatrists, basic and translational researchers.

Advanced: Address highly technical or complex topics (e.g., neurophysiology, advanced imaging techniques or advanced treatment modalities, including surgery.)

Disclosure Policy
It is the policy of the American Epilepsy Society to ensure balance, independence, objectivity, and scientific rigor. All individuals involved in the selection, development, and presentation of content are required to disclose any real or apparent conflicts of interest. Conflicts of interest will be resolved by AES prior to an educational activity being delivered to learners.

Resolution of Conflicts of Interest
It is the policy of the American Epilepsy Society to ensure balance, independence, objectivity, and scientific rigor. All persons involved in the selection, development, and presentation of content are required to disclose any real or apparent conflicts of interest. In accordance with the ACCME Standards for Commercial Support of CME, the AES implemented the mechanisms of prospective peer review of this CME activity, to identify and resolve any conflicts. Additionally, the content of this activity is based on the best available evidence.

Unapproved Use Disclosure
The American Epilepsy Society requires CME authors to disclose to learners when products or procedures being discussed are off-label, unlabeled, experimental, and/or investigational (not FDA approved); and any limitations on the information that is presented, such as data that are preliminary or that represent ongoing research, interim analyses, and/or unsupported opinion. This information is intended solely for continuing medical education and is not intended to promote off-label use of these medications. If you have questions, contact the medical affairs department of the manufacturer for the most recent prescribing information. Information about pharmaceutical agents/devices that is outside of U.S. Food and Drug Administration approved labeling may be contained in this activity.

Disclaimer
This CME activity is for educational purposes only and does not constitute the opinion or endorsement of, or promotion by, the American Epilepsy Society. Reasonable efforts have been taken to present educational subject matter in a balanced, unbiased fashion, and in compliance with regulatory requirements. However, each activity participant must always use his or her own personal and professional judgment when considering further application of this information, particularly as it may relate to patient diagnostic or treatment decisions including, without limitation, FDA-approved uses and any off-label, investigational, and/or experimental uses.
